Brotherhood Achievement

AEPi's very own Marcus McClanahan has achieved an extraordinary feat by completing the IRONMAN Lake Placid Triathlon! Marcus tackled an impressive 2.4-mile swim across Mirror Lake, followed by a grueling 112-mile bike ride through the rugged Adirondack Mountains, and capped it all off with a full 26.2-mile marathon through the iconic Olympic Village. That's over 140 miles and 14 hours of sheer determination and athletic prowess. Great work Marcus!

Jewish Unity

Our brothers are taking great strides to continue our Jewish identity. As we return to school we have been attending Shabbat and events at both Hillel and Chabad, our campus Jewish partners. We look forward to celebrating the coming of the new year with our brothers this coming Rosh Hashanah and participating in events throughout the high holiday season with the broader University of Miami Jewish Community. As we approach the 1st anniversary of the October 7th attacks, our chapter is committed to supporting Israel and will participate in campus events commemorating the attacks during the week of October 7th. As we look forward to the year there is so much to be excited about and that we would like to plan including participation in Shabbat Across AEPi in November and a AEPi Passover Seder in the spring.

Supporting Our Brotherhood

To further support our mission and ensure that future brothers continue to thrive, we humbly ask for your financial support. Any donation, no matter the size, will help us fund important events, maintain our chapter house, and invest in initiatives that benefit both current and future members. We greatly appreciate our alumni and the contributions they have made.

Thank you in advance!
